FURTHER DECLINE IN WALL STREET

lower Prices, Little Business, and That of Professional Character Marks Day.

COURT'S RULING CAUSES BREAK IN HILL STOCKS

Sympathetic Effect Not Strong or Extensive; Rally at the Close.

ther decline in the activity of stocks lay, the total dealings bearing no largthose of yesterday to the active mar-

nday, the total dealings bearing no larger proportion to those of yesterday than itd those of yesterday to the active market of Monday. The character of the lealings was little changed. Profession-il operations again seemed to make up practically all of the business. Also here operations were followed without any show of firm conviction and constant hifting by traders kept values in an untable condition that made the market losely resemble that of the day before. The early decline in sympathy with the weak in the Hill stocks elicited supporting orders of the kind that have made the sars grow timid and which gave color of tocks has been going with a desire to wold violent fluctuations.

The movement in the Hill stocks was direct response to the judicial upholing of the contention of the Minnesota late authorities that consent of the kate Railroad and Wareshouse commission was required for the proposed issue f new Great Northern stock. The officials of the railroad were not disposed o comment upon the decision in the absence of its full text, but the opinion in he stock market inclined to the view hat a material obstacle had been encountered in the way of the proposed plan for raising new capital.

The companion movement in Northern Pacific represented the view that its proposed stock increase might be opposed by similar measures, while the marked confracting in the upward movement of El. Paul was caused by the speculative issumption that the quick manner of completing its stock issue had forestailed uch probable hindrance. It was a belief tidely held at the time of the St. Paul tock issue that the abruptness of the methods by which it was carried out was ine to a desire to avoid any such complications. Another target for attack was anadian Pacific, which was sold largely or foreign account.

Some apprehension of an addition to outstanding stock had a part in its depression, but an overextended speculative nosition in the stock was given the responsibility for most of the depression. The somplement of the larger Sonds were steady. Total sales, par he. $2,298,000.

STRONGER MARKET FOR WHEAT IN CHICAGO

Offerings Are Eagerly Taken and Prices Are Up at Close of the Day.

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—The wheat market opened strong following a sharp advance at Liverpool, which was said to be due to apprehension regarding the fall sown crop in this country. During the first half bour prices sagged a little because of liberal realizing sales. Offerings, however, were eagerly taken by commission houses and shorts. The buying increased in volume as the day advanced and as the principal selling was by longs prices readily -responded to the demand. The excellent demand for cash wheat at Minneapolis wa san influence also.

The market closed strong, May closing 14@1tc higher at 794@79tc, after opening at 78tc to 78tg 78tc.

Corn was in active demand for the greater part of the day, shorts and commission houses being the best buyers. Small local receipts and higher prices at Liverpool were the chief reasons for the domand. The market closed strong, May opened at to it higher, at 46t to 46tc, sold off to 45tc and advanced to 45tc, closing i@tc higher, at 46t@46tc.
